

Social Studies, Prep

This course introduces students to two significant, non-Western areas of the world: China and Africa. Students study the geography, climate, culture and history of these areas, as well as current social and political issues and challenges facing them.

Course Goals

- Know the basic geography of Africa and China
- Know the basic cultural models of Africa and China; religious and artistic
- Know the basic history of African states and of Chinese civilization
- Understand the effects of European colonialism on Africa and China

Course Objectives

- Students will show knowledge of basic geography and culture of Africa and China
- Students will show knowledge of the basic histories of Africa and China